

PROSPECTUS
OF THE

THE undersigned respectfully inform the members of the approaching session of Congress, that they will be the publication of the "Congressional Union" and "Appendix," which will contain a full and accurate history of the daily proceedings of both branches of the national legislature. It will contain, also, every act of Congress, and every resolution, every report, and every document, to which the public attention is attracted, and every citizen who is interested in the public affairs will find it a most valuable synopsis of their proceedings. It will be a book of reference upon all questions which may arise.

The second, (the "Appendix,"), will contain every speech which is delivered in the House of Representatives and Senate during the session, together with all resolutions, and all bills, and all amendments, and at length by a full and able corps of correspondents, who will be selected from among the ablest authors, whenever it is required to publish them. These works will be strictly impartial, and uncolored. These two works will be interesting and useful to the man of business, and to the politician of the one party, as well as to the other.

It may be said, without exaggeration, that the next session of Congress is destined to be one of the most important in our history, and that the most important session of the government has taken place since the foundation of the Republic. It is the session which will develop the character of our government, and the character of our present administration. Its measures will be the basis of our future policy, and will determine the character of our institutions for years to come. It is the session which will determine the questions which are connected with our foreign relations, and which are connected with our domestic affairs. It is the session which will be presented for their consideration.

the final measure of ratifying the constitution of Texas, which is to consummate her admission into our Union, and the admission of her members into our public councils—every measure which affords the Oregon question—our relations with Mexico—as well as the final decision on the revived Zoll-Verein treaty,—these and other measures which are more or less connected with our foreign relations, will come under the review of the approaching Congress. Most of the eminently important questions which relate to our internal concerns—the revision of the tariff—the adoption of the best mode for preserving the public moneys—a variety of measures—perhaps the best system for the commercial world—these and others will constitute a mass of valuable information which is calculated to command much of the attention of the people. They will all be reported by the "Congress of the Union."

The Daily Semi-Weekly, and Weekly Union, as usual, embrace an interesting variety of subjects, or political, scientific, and literary subjects, and the current news of the day. The editor will also publish a series of articles on the improvement of the "Union." He finds many talents in this city. The administration has long been enriched by a considerable accession of talents. Some tried and distinguished members of the democratic party have been admitted to the office. Some of them have already contributed their literary services to the benefit of the people. He hopes to enlist others in our ranks. Besides, the time is not far distant when there will be a call for other talents to his assistance. His intention is to make his semi-weekly of the metropolitan city, a valuable and interesting publication. He is persuaded that his position enables him to employ, with the most official and other materials placed within his reach, and with the aid of the correspondence which he receives from the foreign countries, a paper may be published, which will be of great value to the people.

support of his country. In undertaking the task, he knew he had many difficulties to overcome, many more to be met, many sacrifices to make. He knew that, at first, many enemies to himself, and to his country, would be created. He knew that he could not at once do justice even to himself. His policy can never flag. What enthusiasm and energy he has, will be fully appreciated by those who have seen him always ready to go upon one point, he can speak with great plainness and with equal freedom. The men who are assisting this government are working-men, farmers, mechanics, and soldiers. They are ready to carry out the pledges under which the government was elected, and the great principle of the country. So long as the administration is composed of such men, the country will be able to co-operate with them in the public service, and give them, as he promised in his prospectus, a free, liberal, and efficient support.

It is a pleasure to be made for the first time in a manner in which our political friends in every part of the country have already come forward to sustain the "Union."

It is a pleasure to see that our friends throughout the United States will continue to assist our men, as I reveal upon their friends to take our men and

FIFTY DOLLARS REWARD.
I WILL give fifty dollars reward for taking and securing in jail, so that I get him again, a man John, who calls himself John Roberts, and is 25 years old, common size, dark mulatto, and has suffered from scrofula, the marks of which would be about his jaw, and does not open his mouth, and perhaps has a scar from vaccination on his arm. He ran away about the 10th inst, and has likely will attempt to go to the North, and has, likely, papers. Several have left the county; and it is no doubt attempt to follow. He is a blacksmith and coarse shoemaker.
